

Research Background & Research Ideas: Endoscopy - US Analysis and Market Forecasts

"The Report Endoscopy - US Analysis and Market Forecasts provides information on pricing, market analysis, shares, forecast, and company profiles for key industry participants. - MarketResearchReports.biz"

The US Endoscopy market is a dynamic market that is expected to grow through 2021. The market is also very saturated with intense competition due to the availability of similar product offerings across market players. In the face of increasing hospital consolidation into one network and the trend of oligopoly purchasing, i.e. purchasing more products from fewer manufacturers, the adoption pattern within the endoscopy space has become not entirely product performance based, but also strong brand awareness and identity has become a necessity. Going forward, the increasing emphasis placed on value and the concomitant need to demonstrate improved clinical outcomes will become a critical point of consideration for manufacturers, and will be the most significant factor shaping the design and development of new generation of endoscopic devices.

The report provides insight into the practice patterns and adoption trends, market dynamics, competitive landscape, marketed and pipeline products, current and emerging players, as well as market outlooks within the endoscopy market in the US. The report also identifies the unmet needs in the market while providing an understanding of physicians perceptions and decision-making processes in using different endoscopic devices. This report is built using data and information sourced from secondary sources, primary research interviews with Key Opinion Leaders, as well as physician surveys conducted by GlobalData.
